Hedgehogs Class

Congratulations to this weeks award winner:

Ashleigh Holland for her confidence when writing new sounds.

Seb Emms for his enthusiasm towards his learning.

Squirrels Class

Congratulations to this weeks award winners:

Teddy for his fantastic writing.

Bella Lanigan for excellent work in her spellings.

Foxes Class

Congratulations to this weeks award winners:

Thomas Bridge for good learning behaviour.

Ethan Emms for greatly improved engagement in lessons.

Tess Clarke for her continuously beautiful handwriting and presentation.

Badgers Class

Congratulations to this weeks award winners:

Lilly Faversham for her hard work in art and creating a fabulous model of a bee.

Talitha Rees for her enthusiasm in class discussions; she offers sound reasoning to the ideas she puts forward and she is helpful to others.

Hedgehogs Class

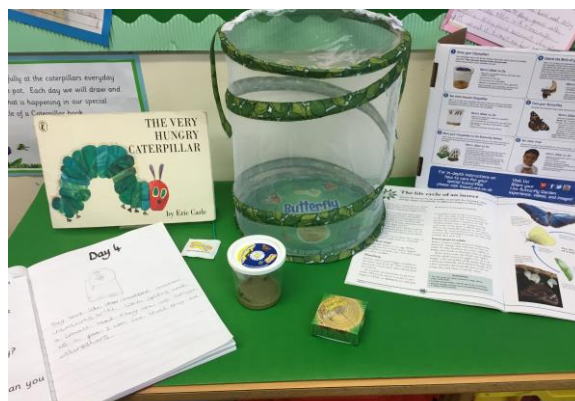

This week we have been carrying on learning about Africa and the animals you can find there. The children have been so enthusiastic with this topic, we are having fantastic conversations and work produced. We have learnt what sounds the animals make, and looked closely at their skins and produced art work inspired by them. In maths, we are moving on to numbers 11-20 and finding different ways to represent them.

Squirrels Class

This week the Squirrel Class went on a tree and flower identification hunt around the school and allotment. They then went looking for bugs to observe and identify.

We currently have caterpillars in the classroom and we have been looking at their daily changes and recording these in our class book.

Badgers Class

This week we have finished creating our giant bugs and have completed our transformation of classroom into the Amazon to inspire our writing. We have been making miniature rafts and seeing if they float, as we replicate the ideas in our class book "The Explorer". In the classroom, we have welcomed our caterpillars, stick insect eggs and ants, as we watch their lifecycles develop.

Foxes Class

During English this week, we had our first experience day using our new writing scheme. The children brought in comfort toys from home and we moved to the hall where we lay down covered by a 'blanket'. We then listened to some eerie night time sounds and studied a picture of a moonlit bedroom. We then got into groups and came up with some fantastic language to reflect our experience.
